Tips and ideas

Conference participants can browse virtual posters at any time. Here are some ideas to get the most out of your virtual poster:

- Include your contact details on the poster i.e. an email address or Twitter handle so participants can start a discussion about your work.
- Use social media to spread the word about your virtual poster. Use the conference hashtag (find this on the conference homepage) or tag @EACRnews on Twitter or 'European Association for Cancer Research' on Facebook and LinkedIn.
- Record yourself with your poster - As you won't be presenting your poster in a conference hall, why not record a short video of yourself talking about your poster and share it on social media using the tags above.
- Use the participant list - Conference participants will receive a list of other participants who have opted-in to sharing their details. Maybe you saw someone ask a question during a talk that is relevant to your research. Why not contact them and direct them to your poster or start your own discussion?
- Tables, drawings, charts, pictures and QR codes are allowed - in fact they are encouraged!
- Please include a clear disclaimer on your poster if you do not want participants to copy or share your poster i.e. "DO NOT POST".
